

Jacquelyn Tesar

Senior Accountant/Compliance Officer
Dunlop & Johnston, Inc.

Jacquelyn Tesar received her undergraduate degree in Business Management from Notre Dame College in Euclid, OH. She then went on to pursue a higher education degree from Ashland University in Ashland, OH where she achieved a Master of Business Administration Degree with a specialization in Human Resources.

In August 2003, Jacquelyn started working for the family business, Tesar Industrial Contractor, where she was responsible for accounts receivable, bank reconciliation, employee maintenance and union record documentation. In October 2006, she accepted a position managing a small fine dining restaurant where she provided staff guidance, motivation, and customer service as well as hired and trained personnel.

Since 2008, Jacquelyn has been employed by Dunlop & Johnston, Inc. where she splits her time fulfilling roles as a Senior Accountant and Compliance Officer. She is responsible for complying and communicating all Department of Labor regulations, specifically relating to the Davis Bacon Act, as well as employment laws concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act. She also works closely with staff to promote cross-department efficiencies by assisting with financial information to effectively make decisions based on budgets and job progress.

Jacquelyn holds nearly 10 years of practical business experience and education. She is enthusiastic about Human Resources and sharing her knowledge of the field.
