

Mari Beth Gavlak, CPA

Mari Beth Gavlak is a CPA and business consultant with a record of success in assisting companies establish, develop and improve their businesses. Her strengths as a business consultant have been an ability to interface and understand business owners, their company, and the surrounding environment pertinent to that business.

Working with numerous business owners over the past 20 years, Mari Beth has acted as a CFO/part time controller performing business analysis, general accounting work, researching accounting and software systems, reviewing business and health insurance programs along with the overall operations of the business entity. She has presented numerous talks on Workers' Compensation programs and health care benefits. Mari Beth also conducts classes for the Construction Employers Association, the local chapter of Construction Financial Managers Association and is a certified AGC instructor.

Earning her Bachelor of Arts degree Magna Cum Laude from Baldwin Wallace College Mari Beth has postgraduate work at Case Western University Weatherhead School of Management. Mari Beth has been an active member of the AICPA, American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the OSCP, Ohio Society of CPAs, CFMA, Construction Financial Management Association, and NAWIC, National Association of Women in Construction.